

Fate Of Socialist Party Is At Stake In Germany

MACHINE GUN FIRE OPENED ON CONVICTS

Civilian Dictator For Germany Proposed

LONDON, October 4.—(By the Associated Press.)—The new German cabinet will consist of four ministers, says a Central News dispatch from Berlin this evening. Dr. Stresemann, Chancellor and Foreign Minister; Herr Minox, Minister of Economy and Finance; Dr. Otto Gessler, Minister of Home Affairs and Defense; and Heinrich Brüning, Minister of Labor and Food.

BERLIN, Oct. 4.—(By the A. P.)—With the retirement of Chancellor Stresemann's coalition cabinet, there is talk of the establishment of a civilian dictator supported by martial law. Dr. Stresemann himself is spoken of in some quarters as well fitted to take over such an office, in view of his experience in economics and finance. Meanwhile, he has been invited by President Ebert to form a new ministry.

The resignation of the cabinet came last night after the four socialist members had withdrawn following their rejection of a compromise proposed by the chancellor on the eight hour law. The bourgeois members voted to retire in a body and authorized Dr. Stresemann to "appraise" President Ebert of their decision. The chancellor is expected to return to the executive soon after midnight and immediately received the German delegates to whom he reviewed the events, leading up to the retirement of his ministry.

"The views of the people at large," said the chancellor, "no longer coincide with those of the parties, and if it were not for the prevailing conditions of unrest the best solution of the whole problem would be new Reichstag elections."

While President Ebert and Chancellor Stresemann would have preferred an avoidance of parliamentary complications in view of the present internal and foreign situation, they are believed to view the outcome with satisfaction in that it brought an end to the traditional system of compromises and political bartering which has been patched up.

Chancellor Stresemann's statements are not to be taken to mean that he purposes constructing a cabinet comprising a limited number of ministers and invested with semi-dictatorial or carte blanche authority to put the drastic relief measures into effect without awaiting parliamentary sanction.

The points of divergence upon which the socialist and bourgeois parties became disaffected and which ultimately occasioned the cabinet's collapse have not been eliminated from the situation and inasmuch as Chancellor Stresemann has refused to yield on them it is taken for granted that Germany's powerful socialist party is about to enter upon a life and death struggle.

The decision of the radical legislation with dictatorial possibilities indicates that they are fully cognizant of the impending developments.

For the present the socialists have chosen to make the defense of the eight hour law their shibboleth and they are accusing the bourgeois industrialists in the German people's party of having broken "up the big coalition." Chancellor Stresemann's program, however, is known to include reforms directed against capital, the proper class and the monopoly interest.

But the outstanding issue in the situation which is quickly developing is the question whether the alleged "tyranny" of socialism, backed by the powerful federations of trade unions or "invisible government" as it is known to its opponents, will definitely be blunted.

Buried Alive Nine Days; Miners Are Rescued

FALKIRK, SCOTLAND, October 4.—(By Associated Press.)—Buried alive for nine days, five of the forty-one miners entombed by an explosion in a coal pit near here, were rescued today. They were brought to the surface in fairly good condition, and their remarkable escape from death has raised the hopes of the relatives of the others imprisoned. The rescuers today were redoubting their efforts.

The first thing the rescued men asked for was cigarettes. They said, all they had to exist on was water after the first day, when the supply of bread gave out. The pit they were in was flooded by the explosion, but they crawled to a ledge away from the water and found a passage where they got a current of air. There they stayed except for occasional trips for water until they were rescued.

The pit belonged to the James Nimmo Company. Seventy men were entombed by the explosion, but 29 soon escaped through a disused shaft. Virtually all hope for the remaining men had been given up.

McTigue Agrees To Fight After Throng Visits Hotel

COLUMBUS, GA., October 4.—(By the Associated Press.)—Mike McTigue, world's light heavyweight champion, at noon today unwrapped the bandages from around his slightly swollen left leg and announced he was ready to fight Young Stribling, a Macon, Ga., high school boy for titular honors here this afternoon.

COLUMBUS, GA., October 4.—(By the Associated Press.)—A squad of police this morning were endeavoring to disperse a gathering of about 200 fight fans from in front of a local hotel where Mike McTigue, of Ireland, light heavyweight champion of the world, was nursing an "imperfectly healed fracture" of a bone in his left thumb.

The championship fight between McTigue and "Young" Stribling, of Macon, Ga., scheduled for this afternoon, was called off after doctors had discovered that McTigue's thumb was injured.

No effort was made by the fight fans to storm the hotel and the police announced they had pushed the crowd back from the entrance as a precaution. Clacards with the champion's photograph pointed on yellow colored background, were being circulated in the business section of the city. Other unfavorable signs against the champion's action appeared on the rear end of automobiles on every street corner groups of men stood while lines formed at downtown auto dealers sent sales places and holders of reserved seats were being refunded their money.

There were no open threats against the champion or his manager, Joe Jacobs, but the object of the gathering in front of the hotel appeared on a "waterfall waiting" idea that probably McTigue and Jacobs would change their minds and give Stribling an opportunity to fulfill his championship ambitions.

The police allowed newspaper men to visit McTigue's suite. They found the champion in bed with his left hand in a large bandage. He had nothing to say. Jacobs also was silent.

Walter Hiebards, city manager of Columbus, called on McTigue. He had a short conference. An announcement would be made later, it was said.

"Stribling ought to be called the champion without a fight, for he would have won it just the same."

Among circulars distributed to the crowds, one bore the caption of "Stop! Look! Listen!"

In large type this circular said: "Of all the cool feet in all the world Joe Jacobs and McTigue are the worst to be found. The statement of the doctors does not say that he has a broken thumb but an imperfectly healed fracture. But a poor excuse is better than none at all."

"Greatest Political Battle Since Civil War, In Oklahoma"

OKLAHOMA CITY, OKLA., October 4.—(By the Associated Press.)—Members of the Oklahoma legislature, bent on instigating impeachment charges against Governor J. C. Walton, went into district court here today to test their authority to convene an inquisitorial body without a call from the governor.

Meanwhile, in a separate court battle, the executive was marshalling his forces to prevent the vitalization of a constitutional amendment passed in Tuesday's special election, which would delegate this power to the legislature.

A lengthy fight is predicted. Members of the legislature have declared they will take the case to the supreme court of the United States if necessary until a final decision is rendered. However, they have pledged to essay no further meeting.

Hearing on an application to make permanent the district court injunction obtained yesterday by Governor Walton to prevent the state election board from certifying returns from Tuesday's election to the secretary of state, is set for October 9.

The governor, charging that the election was controlled by the Ku Klux Klan, predicted in a statement, the greatest political battle since the Civil War "during the next sixty days."

Legislators leading the impeachment move replied with a denial that the Klan is an issue in Oklahoma. Related returns from Tuesday's election continue to give a decisive majority for the amendment.

Newspaper compilations from 2,142 out of 2,837 precincts in the state show: For, 188,573; against, 57,899. A soldier's bonus and four other constitutional amendments appear to have been defeated.

Specifically the President hopes the wheat farmer will be encouraged to form co-operative corporations similar to those which have been so successful in the marketing of cotton, rice, tobacco and other products.

The greatest weakness in the situation from the viewpoint of the Federal government is the lack of an orderly marketing system in the wheat belt. Very few co-operatives have been formed.

There is grave doubt among the most competent authorities here that the wheat crop will be anywhere near the estimates that have been made. In fact, it is coming in from sources that seem well informed that the crops are not as large as has been represented and that consequently the surplus will not be great as was at first believed, all of which should tend to increase materially the price of wheat.

In the absence of co-operative organizations—which by the way are not holding organizations—the farmers (Continued on Page Eight)

Pinchot Sees Orders Defied In Saloons

PHILADELPHIA, PA., October 4.—(By the Associated Press.)—Governor Pinchot today personally observed the open defiance by Philadelphia saloons of his order to cease business under threat of being dealt with according to the "padding section" of the prohibition law.

On Tuesday the governor and the Federal Department of Justice issued a joint order notifying the 1,300 or more local saloons and cafes to close and discontinue their places within 48 hours. A large force of government inspectors and state police who served the notices on the proprietors, completed their work late last night.

Shortly thereafter Governor Pinchot made the rounds to see for himself whether the order was being obeyed. He visited half a dozen or more saloons and found them all doing a flourishing business. The governor made no attempt to make a purchase. Governor Pinchot strolled leisurely into the saloons and cafes, looked around, observed the crowds and as leisurely strolled out. He made no comment. He said he probably would give out a statement in the day.

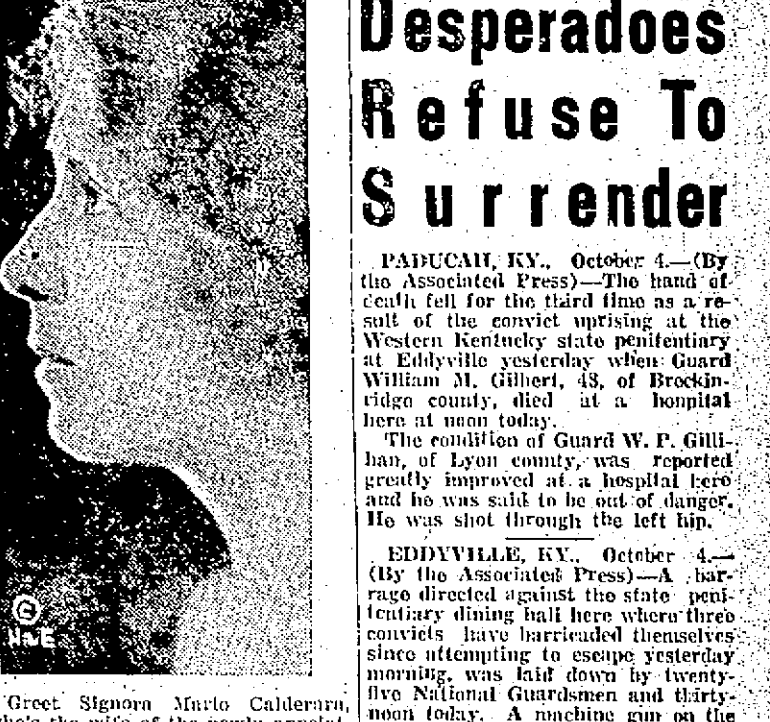

Many of the proprietors are preparing for a legal battle.

Could Fly 500 Miles Per Hour

ST. LOUIS, MO., October 4.—(By the Associated Press.)—An airplane attaining a speed of 500 miles an hour can be built but the craft would fly so fast that it would burn itself up in a friction with the air, Glenn L. Curtiss, of the Curtiss racing planes, declared today. Mr. Curtiss, who is here for the International Air Races, said he believed the maximum feasible speed in aircraft had been reached because limitations on landing speed would make higher powered machines impracticable.

Royal Flyer Besieged Desperadoes Refuse To Surrender

PADUCAH, KY., October 4.—(By the Associated Press.)—The hand of death fell for the third time as a result of the convict uprising at the Western Kentucky state penitentiary at Edhiaville yesterday when Guard William M. Gilbert, 43, of Brockridge county, died at a hospital here at noon today.

The condition of Guard W. P. Gillman, of Lyon county, was reported greatly improved at a hospital here and he was shot through the left hip. He was shot through the left hip.

EDDYVILLE, KY., October 4.—(By the Associated Press.)—A barrage directed against the state penitentiary dining hall here where three convicts have barricaded themselves since attempting to escape yesterday morning, was laid down by twenty-five National Guardsmen and thirty-one today. A machine gun on the third floor of the administration building and one on the chapel, a short distance from the fugitives' fort, swept the imprisoned fortress until a fusillade of 16 hundred rounds was exhausted. The three desperadoes were reported to have fired twelve shots in return.

Guardsmen with rifles and guards with shot guns were also stationed at vantage points. Some time before sunset a signal from Captain Allen Bradford, commander of the troops, the barrage began. Under its cover, three soldiers advanced behind hastily constructed low shields and attempted to fill the place with gas. Some of it was released on the lower floor but it failed to reach the fugitives. The gas was released, apparently due to a gust of wind, and almost overcame the leader who was forced to flee and abandon the attempt.

The machine, rifle and shot gun fire continued steadily for 20 minutes. At the expiration of that period, firing ceased and an order was telephoned to the convicts to surrender. There was no reply.

Plans were made for a second attack during the afternoon. It was planned to advance upon the building and throw not only gas but explosive bombs into it.

The only sign that the besieged convicts were alive came during the machine gun fire, when about a dozen shots were fired by the desperadoes. The shots were the first fired since Wednesday at noon. The only effect the machine gun bullets had upon the prison mess hall was to throw the convicts in the walls.

Late S. B. Timmonds Left Estate Valued At $400,000; Bulk Goes To The Widow

Property with an estimated value of $400,000 is disposed of under the will of the late Samuel B. Timmonds, prominent business man, deceased, admitted to probate today.

Mr. Timmonds, who died suddenly from a stroke of apoplexy last Saturday, left the bulk of his estate to his widow, Jessie L. Timmonds, under his will, which provides for the payment of $5,000 to each of his three nieces, Margaret Hills and Marion Hills, of New York City, and Marie Katherine Waco Marling, of this city, and $5,000 to his sister, Jeanette Timmonds Ford, of New York City, the latter hereafter free of inheritance tax, to be paid her, and her heirs, for her own use and benefit, in monthly installments of $50 each. A provision of the will directs that should any beneficiary contest or attempt to contest the validity of the will, that the share or shares bequeathed to them be revoked and such contestants shall receive no part whatever of the estate.

The will, which was executed May 25, 1916, with Kate M. Newman and Arthur H. Barnes as witnesses, nominates the widow as executrix.

Rev. Hugh I. Evans Receives Call From Dayton Church; Acceptance Probable

That the efficiency of Portsmouth ministers is being recognized by some of the largest churches in America, again was forcibly demonstrated last night when the Rev. Hugh I. Evans, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church, received a unanimous call to the Westminster Presbyterian church of Dayton, Ohio, at a greatly increased salary.

After receiving the call, Rev. Evans stated that he would not give his final answer until next week, but his friends assert that it is a foregone conclusion that he will accept the flattering call, opening as it does the door to a broader field of activity.

The Westminster church is the leading church in the Dayton Presbyterian synod of the state. It is a combination of two strong churches and now boasts of a membership of about 1500. It is at Third and Ludlow just a block from the business section of the city. Westminster Presbyterian church organized in 1789 and the Third street church organized in 1828.

The congregations combined about three years ago. Church buildings have been sold and plans are being made for the erection of one of the most modern houses of worship in this section, the new structure to cost about $700,000.

The pastor accepting a call to the Dayton church will have the honor of supervising the work of the new building. Some months ago a committee from the Dayton church which has been without a pastor for a good while came to Second Presbyterian church to hear Rev. Evans. They were greatly impressed and after a few weeks another committee from the same church was here. Five of these delegations have been here the last one containing two dozen members. Each visit convinced the members more fully that Rev. Evans was the man they wanted and needed for their church. Rev. Evans was in Dayton twice this summer and talked with members of Westminster church but has never delivered a trial sermon there.

Rev. Evans came to Second Presbyterian church two years ago this last month until December or January.

Body Still Unidentified

Rumors that the body found back of South Portsmouth several days ago may be that of George Graham, aged 35, who has been missing from his boarding place here since February, were dispelled when it was learned that no closed watch or initialed ring bearing the initials "G. G." or an "L. O." and Masonic pin were found among the man's effects.

Close friends of Graham say he always wore his lodge emblem and his initialed ring. Undertaker Edgington of South Portsmouth, said Thursday that no ring of any kind, and no lodge emblem were found among the man's effects and his watch is an open faced one, while Graham's was closed.

Graham last worked in the plant of the Breese Manufacturing company.

Officials of Fullerton and South Portsmouth are still busy trying to have the body identified.

Crabbe Demands That Donahey Take Action Against McNamara

COLUMBUS, O., October 4.—(By the Associated Press.)—Citing a report prepared by the Republican State Central Committee, in which it is averred that conditions at the Girls Industrial School have become "precarious," and that 204 girls have run away from the institution since the removal of Mrs. Mae E. Stannard, on June 5, Attorney General C. C. Crabbe today made demand upon Governor Donahey for action on charges filed against John McNamara, Sr., about six weeks ago.

The charges against McNamara were filed by Crabbe, who cited instances of alleged misconduct and cruelty on the part of McNamara while Mrs. McNamara was matron of the girl's school. He demanded the subject be brought to an investigation, and McNamara, relieved as assistant director of the welfare department.

The attorney general advises the governor that he has not been accorded the courtesy of a reply to his letter of six weeks ago, bringing to his attention the charges filed against McNamara. Friends of the governor declare that the charges all pertain to a period prior to the present administration and to McNamara's appointment as Assistant Chief of the Welfare Department. It is also indicated that if McNamara's conduct was so bad while employed at the Girls School, his repeated requests that his resignation be accepted should have been acted upon by the former administration.

The Storehouse of History Ransacked!

The age of Romance, Chivalry, Adventure, transplanted from Twelfth century dust and nourished in the genius of a great artist till it blossoms forth into a gorgeous spectacle of Twentieth century realism! A tenderly beautiful love story in the midst of marching crusades, the clash of broadswords the hum of singing arrows. Robin Hood and his band, Maid Marian and her peril, Sherwood Forest and its greenwood, with the Sheriff of famed Nottingham Town.

Broadening Of Activities Of Exchangeites Urged In Splendid Talk Made By Rev. Evans

Many good talks have been heard by the members of the Exchange Club of Portsmouth, but none have been more inspiring, or more profitable to the Exchangeites than the address last evening by the Rev. H. J. Evans, pastor of Second Presbyterian Church, whose theme might be called "The Right Kind of Leadership." Rev. Mr. Evans called attention to the fact that the Exchange Club of Portsmouth was made up of the younger business men of the community, and said that this fact gave them a great opportunity of so shaping their lives, so shaping the activities of the club that in the years to come the Exchange Club may exert an influence which would be of the greatest benefit not only to the club but to the entire community.

The speaker urged the club members not to sit back and advance only as the community carried them onward, but to take an active part in advancing the best interests of the city. He urged activity along industrial lines, along social lines, along civic betterment, and along lines of religious advancement.

The address made a deep impression on the club and the speaker was sincerely thanked by each Exchangeite present for his meeting with the club and for his inspiring talk.

Messrs. Shively and Willets, U. S. bank examiners, were guests at the meeting. The club arranged to meet with the Kiwanis and Rotarians on the evening of October 19, in a joint session.

Red Seal Concert and Operatic

Record	Artist	Price
Gioconda—Suicidio (Suicide Remains)	Maria Jeritza	6375 $2.00
Alceste—Divinites du Styx (Divinites of the Styx)	Maria Jeritza
Slavonic Dance No. 2 (Dvořák-Kreisl)	Viola Sola Jascha Heifetz	6376 2.00
Slavonic Dance No. 3 (Dvořák-Kreisl)	Viola Sola Jascha Heifetz

Two more of those weird compositions in Kreisl's violin arrangement with piano. They have strange, wailing, double-stop melodies, breaking into dizzy and fantastic dances.

Light Vocal Selections

Record	Artist	Price
Silver Threads Among the Gold	Henry Burr-Peerless Quartet	19112 .75
When You and I Were Young, Maggie	Henry Burr-Peerless Quartet
Three Thousand Years Ago	Billy Murray	19132 .75
It's a Lotta Bologny	Billy Murray
My Pal	John Steel	19131 .75
Just a Girl that Men Forget	Henry Burr

Two old songs beloved of "Us, the common people," in the smooth rolling harmony of men's voices, with subtle undercurrents of orchestral music.

"Three Thousand Years Ago" purports to be sung in Egyptian, though you will understand it without trouble. "Bologny" is a study from "tough life," and a true one.

A typical "pal" song and a heart-song in the most popular of popular styles by two of the most popular of popular tenors. Both songs in waltz time.

Humorous Monologue

Record	Artist	Price
Will Rogers Nominates Henry Ford for President	Will Rogers	45369 1.00
Will Rogers Tells Traffic Chiefs How to Direct Traffic	Will Rogers

Two more of Will Rogers' brilliantly humorous monologues. His nomination speech, we predict, will be an American popular classic. His humor, if shrewd, never is bitter. His recommendations to traffic chiefs are also worth hearing.

Dance Records

Record	Artist	Price
Oh Susanna—Medley Fox Trot	The Great White Way Orchestra	19125 .75
Southern Melodies—Waltz	The Troubadours
That Big Blond Mamma—Fox Trot	Tennessee Ten	19130 .75
Sobbin' Blues—Fox Trot	The Benson Orchestra of Chicago

Stephen Foster's "Oh Susanna" combined into a pleasant, wholesome fox trot. The Waltz is made of Foster melodies that every one knows.

The "Mamma" seems replacing the "Mammy" in American popular music. "That Big Blond Mamma" is a joyous sort of number with a fine dancing rhythm. "Sobbin' Blues" is one of the strangest dances since the "Wang-Wang Blues."

Dollings Co. Of Pa.*Expected To Yield*26 Cents On Dollar

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 4. — Stockholders of the R. L. Dollings Company of Pennsylvania may receive 26 cents on the dollar, Thomas H. Burt, White, receiver of the company, stated in a report filed in the Federal District Court here today. Receiver denounced the "unlawful dividends" paid by the officers of the Dollings company to stockholders. Despite the fact that the earnings of the company were only $15,000 during the three years of its existence, dividends totalling $400,000 were paid the stockholders of the Dollings company while an additional $400,000 was advanced to pay dividends of subsidiary companies. The greater portion of the $8,000,000 capitalization of the parent company, Mr. White stated, was expended in advances to subsidiaries, some of which were "hardly better than promotion schemes." The affairs of the company were so involved, the receiver stated, that it is impossible to give anything but the sketchiest sort of a preliminary report at this time.

Mayor Asks Show Down On Improvement Funds; Belt Line To Be Connected Council Told; Two Routes Feasible

Mayor William N. Gableman's often repeated charge of "alleged improper handling of city improvement funds" by which he claims the taxpayers had suffered to the extent of thousands of dollars, bobbed up rather unexpectedly at the regular meeting of the city council last night when the Mayor walked into the arena and called "show down" on the proposition by pointing to the council that he does not propose to sign any more notes to provide funds in anticipation of bond issues for street and sewer improvements, at least, not until council provides a way to take care of approved deficiencies in improvement funds and the city records show that all proceedings pertaining thereto are left.

The entire membership was present except Walter L. Dickey, representative from the Second ward, and President Albert Weghorst, speeded up the proceedings with the result that the session was rather brief, lasting less than two hours, but considerable business was crowded in during that period. Service Director W. E. Cook was not present and his absence was explained by a report that he had been suddenly taken ill at his home late in the day after leaving his office.

The only incident which occurred during the evening to mar the usual routine was the Mayor's statement following the introduction by the Finance Committee of a resolution authorizing an issue of notes in the sum of $22,000, to provide funds in anticipation of the issuing of bonds for the improvement of Jackson street from Officers street to Campbell avenue. The mayor called attention to the fact that although the street had been closed out many months ago the sum of $33,400 is now charged against the improvement, whereas the sum of $31,711.00 is all the money possible the city can now get back. He declared that there is an interest charge of $1484 against

Here is what a Well Known Man Says: "Minerva, Ohio.—I was suffering most severely from a pain in my back. I got a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Aurifer (anti-uric-acid) tablets and took them. It was rheumatism and in about three or four weeks I had relief. I know, too, from the experience of others with whom I am acquainted, users of Dr. Pierce's Aurifer, that they have been benefited." The communication was referred to the Railroad Committee to work out the details of the project with officials of the company with a view in mind of being able to make an early start on the proposed extension next Spring.

Auditor Chandler read a communication from Attorney Floyd C. Williams, Cincinnati, offering on behalf of his client to sell the city the strip of ground in the rear of the Dier and Dr. E. C. Jackson houses on Second street, desired for the purpose of opening a blind alley, for $1000. The letter was ordered filed without comment.

Attorney Theo. K. Munk appeared to present the claim of John Jones, West Side man, who is asking the city to pay him $200, in settlement of a claim which he sustained a year ago by an explosion of gas coming from a sewer on Sixth street, near Chillicothe. The explosion was caused by Jones striking a match to light the tail light on his automobile. The attorney was directed to take up the matter of settlement with the Law and Claims committee.

Referred to Committee.
The claim of Gus Hinkle, 1607 Grandview avenue, for $200 damages caused by a tree falling, smashing his shed and an anti-freeze toilet was referred to the Law and Claims committee.

Dan Labolt appeared to answer the parties who had registered objection to the company establishing a junk yard along the N. & W. tracks near the Reliable Engine Company's plant. He declared that the site of the proposed new yard was in low ground and on that account would be practically hidden from the view of persons living there and claimed that the presence of the yard there would not have a tendency to decrease residential property values.

A petition signed by S. S. Bierley and 46 other property owners was read asking for the resurfacing of Eleventh street, from Officers street to Young street, with sheet asphalt and the petition was referred to the street committee and engineer.

How Backache and Periodic Pains Yield to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Olean, N. Y.—"Every month my blood would go to my head and I would have such a headache, nose-bleed, backache and pains that I could not do my work. At night I could not get my rest and nothing seemed to do me any good. I read some of your testimonials about what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for others, and decided to try it. I had only taken two bottles when I began to be better, and my back did not hurt me nor my head ache. I felt like a new woman. The Vegetable Compound is a splendid medicine and I will always recommend it." Mrs. A. D. EARLS, 530 N. 6th St., Olean, N. Y.

Mrs. Kelsey Adds Her Testimony
Copenhagen, N. Y.—"I read your advertisement in the papers and my husband induced me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to get relief from pains and weakness. I was so weak that I could not walk at times. Now, I can do my household work and help my husband out doors. I am willing for you to publish this letter." Mrs. HERBERT KELSEY, R.F.D., Copenhagen, N. ## Conservatives Appear Boss

PORTLAND, ORE., October 4.—(By the A. P.)—Action was due to begin here today at the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor, resolutions all being in the hands of committees and the preliminary business of the gathering having been disposed of. Proposed participation by the Federation in politics and suggested changing of the basis of organizations from crafts to industries, were among the matters to be decided. Defeat of proponents of a resolution for recognition of Soviet Russia in an attempt to have the resolution referred to the international affairs committee was interrupted by leaders as a slur in the wind showing the strength of the conservative element in the convention.

Leaders and delegates who have so far expressed themselves informally in the convention hall or at the hotels have indicated no movement on foot for any change to the official family of the Federation.

President Samuel Gompers is losing no opportunity to resolve his position in opposition to radicalism.

"I believe the American labor movement prefers to make constructive and reasonable demands," he said in an address yesterday.

President Gompers as a delegate of the Cigar Makers International Union, joined with three other delegates of that union yesterday in introducing a resolution denouncing the fascist movement and "establishment of any form of tyranny in Italy or any other country" under whatsoever name it may be launched.

Warren G. Harding Registered At O. S. U.
COLUMBUS, O., October 4.—(By the Associated Press)—The long line of students before the registrar's office at Ohio State University was held up for several minutes yesterday while officials rubbed their eyes and stared at an enrollment card bearing the name "Warren G. Harding." The card had been presented by a nephew and namesake of the late editor-president, who apparently desiring to follow in the footsteps of his distinguished uncle, entered the college of commerce and journalism.

Young Warren G. is a son of Dr. George T. Harding, Jr., of Worthington, Ohio. He has been pledged by the Sigma Chi Fraternity. Registration at the University passed the $,000 mark yesterday. Officials expect it to reach $,400 for the full quarter.

WHAT TO EAT TO PUT IRON IN YOUR BLOOD AND MAKE YOU STRONG

Physician Tells How Iron-Containing Vegetables such as Lentils, Spinach, Apples, etc., When Regularly Taken With Organic Iron, Can Build Great Strength and Endurance.

At their own choice, in the very best of health, and the action of strong acids on iron filings, while organic iron is a true red blood food, like the iron in your blood itself and the iron in spinach, lentils and apples. In fact if you will eat a pint or two of spinach soup, a pint of lentils and three or four baked apples each day will probably not need to be any other form of organic iron; but most people prefer to eat a smaller quantity of iron-containing vegetables and take organic iron, the Nuxated Iron, with them. It is like taking extract of beef instead of eating pounds of meat. To prove to yourself the value of organic iron for you, get your doctor to take a specimen of your blood and make a "blood count" of your blood and connective tissue. Nuxated Iron for a month, and have a new "blood count" made and see how your red blood count has increased and how much stronger and better you feel. See how the color has come back to your cheeks, how steady and sure your nerves have become. At all druggists.

Pikeon Council Holds Busy Session

A busy session of the village council was held at Mayor Bateman's office in the Opera House last night.

Thomas Kinney, of Columbus, representing the Standard Oil Co., met with the council and after being introduced by Mayor Bateman, addressed the council relative to obtaining the consent of that body to move one of the company's gasoline pumps, which is located in front of the Standard Oil Co. building, near the corner of Main and Clark streets, so that when machines are stopped for gasoline they will be setting in a level position, as the present location of the pump is on a grade, and it is not possible to fill the auto tanks to capacity when they are setting in that position. With the consent of council, Mayor Bateman ordered the street committee to look after the matter and give the Standard Oil Company permission to move the tank.

A report was then made by the chairman of the street committee and Mr. Fishburn, the chairman, reported that a sum of $162.42 had been spent in graveling the streets and that a balance of approximately $70.00 remained in the street fund. Frank Silcott, chairman of the special light plant committee, working in conjunction with the Board of Public Affairs, reported the arrival of the new generator for the light plant, the moving of the oil tank from the N. & W. right of way to the location of the new light plant, the purchase of a car of fuel oil and that the power house building would be moved to the new location some time this week. Ernest Silcott of Bethel, has the contract for moving the power house.

Following the report of the special light plant committee, Mayor Bateman made a report on the rental of the Opera House which showed a balance of $55 on hand after paying the janitor fee of $14. The financial report showed the following amounts in the various funds: General fund, $212.43; Service fund, $70.00; Light fund, $120.1. A communication from the State Industrial Commission, recommending some repairs on the Opera House was then read by Clerk John W. Stratton. This communication, which was the outcome of a recent visit by one of the inspectors of the commission, recommended that an additional side exit from the auditorium be provided and that an outdoor exit be made from the balcony. It also recommended that a steel railing be placed along the steps leading from the stage. Mayor Bateman appointed Attorney G. W. Rittenour and T. N. Patterson to investigate conditions at the Opera House and see that the improvements suggested by the commission are made. A number of bills were then read and approved, on a motion made by Rittenour and seconded by Patterson, on a motion made by Fishburn, fifty dollars was transferred from the general fund to the safety fund to pay Marshall G. A. Marklund's salary for the month of September. Council then adjourned to meet Monday night, Nov. 5th.

Says---Now Stiff Joints Must Go!

New Discovery Limbers 'Em Up and Even the Creaking Ceases

Yes! It's true—the world progresses. All you have to do nowadays is limber up that stiff, rusty knee joint is to squeeze a half inch of miracle working substance from a tube.

Then rub it on the offending part for about a quarter of an minute or until it soaks through the skin and disappears on its errand of mercy.

Then read the evening newspaper and go to bed.

The chances are that your misbehavior knee joint will lose its "creak" while you are dreaming about the high fence you used to leap when you were a youngster.

"And in the morning," says one who has tried the new discovery, "you'll feel so happy that you'll want to jump into your sportiest clothes and walk briskly down the street just to show the neighbors that you are not as old as they think you are."

Joint Ease! They call this wonder working substance for the reason that when ordinary remedies fail to limber up the stiff, inflamed rheumatic joint, or reduce the swelling, joint-Ease succeeds. It's a good name for a good, clean, painless prescription that in just a few months has proven to a multitude of people that lame, swollen, distorted joints can speedily have the kinks taken out of them and work as smoothly as ever.

Joint Ease is for bothersome joints whether in knee, ankle, hip, shoulder, spine or finger, and for that purpose its sale at J. H. Fisher's Pharmacy has a big supply of it and druggists everywhere report a big demand. Advertisement.

Expect

Reports of large surpluses and other factors usually have influenced the producers to try to get rid of their crop at whatever seemed to be the best price. The purpose of the co-operative organizations is to insure the farmer the very best price possible in marketing his product. Co-operative marketing is ever so much more effective than individual effort and this is no longer a theory but a proved fact.

Naturally the government makes advances of money to the co-operatives and part of this in turn is given to the farmer so that he can almost immediately get the benefit of the transaction and pay his debts. Relatively little risk has been taken in the financing of these co-operative organizations. The War Finance Corporation was organized particularly to extend emergency credit and bring about a more orderly system of marketing through the use of timely credits. Its name now really should be the Emergency Finance Corporation though most of the troubles which it is trying to cure the direct outgrowth of war conditions. The War Finance Corporation has been listening for several days to all sorts of plans to help the farmer, but the solution at last determined upon is to bring the Federal government into closer touch with the producers by sending the directors of the War Finance Corporation out to the West to confer in person with the agricultural interests most affected at the moment. It was the War Finance Corporation which came to the rescue of the livestock industry and helped materially in the cotton traveling. Eugene Meyer who has been traveling constantly from one end of the country to the other since the War Finance Corporation was peevish four years ago is probably as familiar with credit and marketing conditions as anybody in the administration.

Mr. Meyer has also been making an investigation of European conditions, and believes there is little opportunity to finance an export trade under present fluctuations of foreign currencies, but is rather inclined to the idea that the export situation will ease itself as the surplus is gradually reduced by home consumption. Wheat prices are higher than they were a year ago at the corresponding period and the general belief now is that they will tend to go higher and make the farmers happier as the true figures about the existing crop are ascertained.

Youth is always in style—and Gossards prolong youth

"Being slim may be a matter of pounds; but looking slim is a matter of where those pounds are placed." Gossard corsets and brassieres offer an easy way to keep the figure youthful. They do not permit one's figure to "let down" and "spread." The new soft front, offered this year, is straight, giving a flat abdomen without any restriction over digestive organs.

Confessions of a Rum Runner, Member of Smuggler's Crew

Queer Types of Vessels to Be Seen Along Rum Row — Fast Launches and Tugs Best For Getting The Boozie Ashore

The "rum-running" vessels which hang outside the three-mile limit seeking liquor to be smuggled into this country have received world-wide attention, but so far little has been told from the inside of their actual operations.

The Times, in conjunction with the Manchester Guardian, is now able to give in a series of nine articles, of which this is the fifth, the complete narrative of a member of the crew of a ship engaged in this trade for five months off the American coast. The writer describes in detail the organization and methods by which the trade is carried on, the devices of the smugglers, life on board ship, the types of men who are their overseas customers and the big men in the background.

The conditions of "Rum Row," where the ships are moored, the methods of the "pirates" who prey upon the rum ships, the adventures of the launches and the tugs that bring the drink ashore are also related. The writer is a seaman of wide experience in the mercantile marine and the Times and Manchester Guardian have proof of the authenticity of his narrative.

CHAPTER V.
Launches and Tugs
BY ONE OF THE CREW

There is no particular type of motor launch for bootlegging. Any kind of launch will do. One reads of the silent hydroplanes used for booze running, but I can assure my readers that they are not used in and around New York.

Any kind of launch that will carry booze is good enough. Thirty knots or so is as fast as I have seen any of them do. If you have protection, you don't need a fast launch, and if you don't, a fast launch is of no use to you. You can't outrun a bullet no matter how fast you are.

We had one really fast launch that visited us occasionally, but she was of such fine construction that she could only face the deep water in the calmest weather. She was about 30 feet long, built like a racing boat, and had two 750-horse power Liberty engines. She came alongside early in January, and we thought her a very fine-looking boat indeed.

Like About Their Speed

I asked the man in charge what speed she could do. He answered, "Forty-six knots." Take ten from that, and I think the boat has been her speed. Why the boatmen should lie about the speed of their boats I don't know, but they all did. A type of engine which was a great favorite with the bootleggers was the Pierce-Arrow, a motor car engine which developed 20 to 25 knots. These were rather silent engines and were about the best used in the business. The majority of the launches used were useless in any kind of a sea-way. I can only remember one that I would call a good seaboat. She was clinker-built and had been a ship's launch. Her engine was right under a very powerful one, and she loaded about 200 cases.

She was out often when no other boat was to be seen, and I'm sure the man who owned her made a good thing out of it. The difficulty was loading her in a rough sea. These were rather silent engines and were about the best used in the business. The majority of the launches used were useless in any kind of a sea-way. I can only remember one that I would call a good seaboat. She was clinker-built and had been a ship's launch. Her engine was right under a very powerful one, and she loaded about 200 cases.

Many Never Return

Many launches left the Atlantic Coast last winter for the rum fleet and never returned. They didn't advertise their going, and only those intimately acquainted with them knew of their non-return. Many casualties happened in the bootlegging business of which the people of New York know little. The police had and out, but they never say much. The press says little, and what little they do say is generally wrong.

The stores, coal and water, were nearly always brought out to the larger vessels of the rum fleet by water boats, large, unwieldy vessels for work outside of a harbor. Efficiency of freedom is hardly sufficient for deep water. The water boats of New York are often floating cranes, and the huge must and derrick, sometimes sheerlegs, make them very unmanageable in a sea-way. Their excuse for coming out was, of course, to get sea water for some of the private baths that abound around New York. If their tanks had been examined when they returned by the revenue men they would sometimes have found freewater instead of sea water, and in cases at that they don't always take a tour in. In fact, I may say that it was the exception more than the rule, but it has been done.

Tugs were of course the best type of craft for running booze, but yet had to do it on a big scale if you were going to employ a tug, and you had to be well protected. We have loaded as many as 2,500 cases in one of these one boss used more than once, and it got through all right. One of our tugs was captured, but as our boss had a good pull we got her back all right with about 600 cases still on board that the revenue men didn't find. I don't think they looked very hard.

When she returned to us four of the members of the crew were out on bail—$3,000. But it didn't seem to worry them much. There were so many bootlegging cases before the courts that they didn't expect to be called for some time. One of them had three counts against him under different names. They all looked upon it as a huge joke. They would all probably lose their bail and change their names.

New Use for Old Sub-Chaser

We had a submarine chaser that loaded from us twice. To such uses have the mighty fallen. Her powerplant had been taken out and replaced by a much smaller one. Still, she looked exactly what she had been, and not what she was. She was painted navy gray. The guns were off her deck of course, but they didn't remove the deck bolts from her gun mountings. They loaded her right down to the gunwale with 2,500 cases, and she got away with it both times.

One afternoon about a couple of months after we had arrived a vessel bore up for the rum fleet's anchorage. She had no sail set and a tug was alongside towing her. I remember her well, as she gave us a foul berth when she came up to the anchor, and kept our Old Man on pins and needles till he had sent a message and got her to shift.

She was the funniest looking ship I ever set eyes on. Built obviously as a small bark, she had only the two masts standing, and they were schooner-rigged. She was light-colored of the water and all her gear was in a drearily state—in fact, to a seaman's eye she wasn't fit to be on the high seas.

A few days after she had anchored, one of our fellow rum-runners went alongside of her and took a few thousand cases out of her. We were all very curious about her. There were only three or four men on board of her, by no means enough to work ship. We wondered what would happen if she parted, her cable in an asterisk gale. We got our answer from the other ship's captain, who was a very experienced sailor. He said, "The worst northwesterly gale we had. She must have parted in the night, as we didn't see her go."

The papers gave an account of her being picked up by a Government tug and taken into an American port. They had quite a curious official on board to look after her, but, according to Jack, they had been squandered. A tug came alongside one dark night and she was towed to sea without any lights showing. The owner didn't mean to lose his whiskey if he could help it. The men knew they could not keep the cutting-out expedition quiet for long.

A revenue cutter might spot her any day, so they had shifted the booze to another ship and cut the schooner adrift in the first gale, that she might be lost on the beach and broken up by the next morning. Unfortunately they cut her adrift when the wind was in the wrong quadrant and instead of going ashore she drifted down the coast and again into the hands of authority, but without her booze, which was the main thing.

This story looks quite true to me, though the man who told it did come around. We always paid the courtesy of the sea and dipped our ensign to them as they passed. They always replied, but through the glass I've seen smiles on the faces of their officers. I think they saw the humor of it.

We read of a big shipment of Chinese wine that was to be destroyed, and saw the Government tug tow it out on a barge and dump it. For days after the sea was strewn with cases going to employ a tug, and you had to be well protected. We have loaded as many as 2,500 cases in one of these one boss used more than once, and it got through all right. of it, and I'm sure that the bootleggers picked up quite a few cases and landed it again. We got a bottle from one of our customers. It was a sort of champagne and would cure anything. The instructions were printed in English and Chinese. You could drink it or rub it on, according to your ailment. As it contained 50 per cent alcohol, the bootleggers didn't try to sell it as an emulsion.

A new high-powered motor boat one day came alongside looking for rum. The sea was very rough and the launch had to lie off while two of her crew came on board and talked prices with Bill. There were six in the boat, all Italians, and a pretty rough looking crowd they were. We didn't like them a bit, and took our usual precautions. The sea was rising all the time and it was getting very cold, about twelve degrees of frost, I think. The skipper advised them to get ashore as quickly as possible, after they had been on board about an hour sampling.

In their ignorance of wind, sea, and weather, and being brave to the extent of our various samples, they wouldn't take the skipper's advice, but decided, as Bill's prices were too high for them, to visit a vessel about two miles outside of us. We watched their boat, expecting to see the last of her any moment as she landed into the wind and sea. She turned round when she had made about half a mile and headed for the shore. We watched her as long as we could, with the darkness closing down, and I don't think if any of us ever expected her to reach the beach. Two or three days after we read the following in the press:

"The new high-powered motor boat Mary G (that wasn't the name, but it will do as well as any other) was picked up at sea this morning with one of her crew frozen in his cabin. Two other members of the crew were suffering severely from frostbites and exhaustion. The Mary G was brand new and had been making trials out of Brooklyn. The engines had broken down and she had drifted out to sea."

I do not expect the remaining members of her crew to stop bootlegging, but I hope they will take the advice of any skipper when he tells them to get ashore as soon as possible.

Working Hours Seem Shorter When You Feel Full Of "Pep"

In the middle of the afternoon lots of people feel tired, "beaty," and can't work. Yet isn't the work they do no much as the rundown condition of their nerves, stomach and blood? Build yourself up, and you'll do twice the work in half the time. Win back your strength, energy and "pep." Dr. "Back" Liver and Blood Syrup is the answer to countless numbers of people in this state that it increases the appetite, stimulates digestion, tones the blood pumping through the veins.

Take a delicious, laxative after meals, but I can assure my readers that they are not used in and around New York.

No More Yellow Teeth!

New Liquid Removes Stains—Whitens Teeth Instantly

A new harmless liquid has been discovered which—in just three minutes—gives dull yellowish teeth a beautiful, pearly whiteness. It's almost magical. You just brush your teeth with a few drops—and no matter how black or discolored they may have been—they instantly take on a charming new lustre, a marvelous snowy whiteness. Tobacco stains completely disappear after few applications. This new liquid is called Bleachdent. Perfected by prominent dentists.

Children's teeth are especially subject to stains, tartar and decay. In removing the stain, and cleansing and whitening the teeth, Bleachdent retards the formation of tartar and is a great aid in keeping the teeth sound and healthy. It is antiseptic, soothing, healing and generally beneficial to both teeth and gums. It is vitally important that children's teeth be kept in like Bleachdent be used on children's teeth. Gritty and abrasive substances and preparations should never be used. Get Bleachdent today. Only a few cents for full-sized bottle. Money back if not delighted. Sold by good druggists such as:

Man Shot Dies; Gun User Missing

Harry (Hence) Smith, 42 years old, Tick Ridge horse trader, who was shot in the side by an unknown man during a drunken brawl near Haverhill last Monday, succumbed to his wound in a local hospital shortly before 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Smith's condition was not regarded as serious until today when he took a turn for the worse. Coroner Virgil Fowler, on being notified of the man's death, arranged to hold a post-mortem examination.

Smith's assailant escaped and is still at large. The shooting took place near the depot at Haverhill and Deputy Sheriff Reno and Candler were soon on the scene, but found no trace of the gun user, who it is said, was also a horse trader.

Stewart McNeely, who was near the scene of the fatal shooting is being held at the county jail as a material witness. He says he was drunk when the shooting occurred and knows nothing about it.

Bond Prices Exhibit Firm Tone

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Bond prices exhibited a firm tone in today's early dealings with a good inquiry noted for most of the active speculative and railroad securities. Foreign bonds showed a little change, while United States Government issues continued to lose ground in further reflection of the possibility of a big soldier bonus issue early next year. Prompt closing of the books of the $17,350,000 issue of New York Central first mortgage equipment trust certificates, which were offered today was construed as showed moderate gains.

Hammer Club Only A Memory; Building Is Sold And Deal Means A New Store

The famous Hammer Club is no more.

It passed into history when the building which had housed this famous organization on Chillicothe street was sold by the owner, Henry J. Faurer, to Abraham and Fannie Kaufman, of Gallia avenue, New Boston.

They will modernize the building, install a plate-glass front and in two or three weeks will open a ladies' ready-to-wear store in the building, which is two stories in height and 24 by 83 feet.

In this building, where Mr. Faurer ran a shoe repair shop, the older men of the city were won't gather and frankly discuss current events. Now and then they agreed with some one or on some subject, but this was a rare occasion and that is why the club derived the name of the Hammer Club. Men of all walks of life belonged and it was the meeting place in which all statements were dumped and given the acid test. If any one was guilty of boasting anything any too much he was promptly expelled from the organization. The Hammer Club meant just what it stood for, a free and open discussion on all events and there is no doubt but what the members lived up to the precepts of the club—Hammer.

But it is only a memory now and Mr. Faurer, who sold the home of the organization, will devote his time in looking after his property interests. The sale of the property was handled by the Brierley Realty Company.

Get Famous Grass For Golf Greens

The first carload of the famous Bent grass, to be used on the greens of the new Country Club, West Side, arrived Wednesday from Philadelphia. The planting of it was begun today and soon the greens will begin to take form. The grass is the finest quality grown and was shipped here in a refrigerator car in order to preserve its moisture.

To prevent any delay in shipment, which would have reduced the hardness and growing tendency of the grass, Simon D. F. Peters of this division of the N. & W. was in Columbus yesterday and gave handling of the car from the Capital City to a point near the Golf Grounds, on the West Side.

DOROTHY PHILLIPS IN ELLINOR GLYN'S "THE WORLD'S A STAGE" HEADS PHOTOPLAY BILL AT EASTLAND, TONIGHT. A. D. E. D. PHOTOPLAY AND VAUDEVILLE ARE OTHER ATTRACTIONS.

Something absolutely new in screen plot and characterization is offered in Ellinor Glyn's "The World's A Stage," which comes as a Principal Picture to the Eastland theater tonight. Trust the celebrated authoress of "Three Weeks," and "Man And Maid," to discover real novelty. The screen has long needed a story which got away from the beaten path. "The World's A Stage" will surprise you with its out-of-the-ordinary plot. It is a vital, throbbing tale soaring to unexpected climaxes starting in its denouement and will be talked about as the film sensation of the year.

Mrs. Glyn has painted accurately and vividly the inside life of a screen actress in Hollywood. All of the incidents of the story are founded upon real life. Mrs. Glyn has been a resident of Hollywood for some time and her impressions of life are honestly recorded here. The plot treats of the adventures of a stage star, heading a cheap repertoire troupe whose performance of Juliet is so fine that it attracts the attention of a picture producer and a wealthy mining man in the audience. They conclude that the screen needs new personalities, and the latter man, being somewhat interested in the girl, uses his influence with the director in getting her a contract. Her star is in the ascendant, but as happiness is about to be her reward, along comes the bitter pang of disillusionment as she discovers that her hasty marriage is not a success. The picture is interpreted by Dorothy Phillips as its star and she gives a sterling performance. Others include Kenneth Harlan and Bruce McEwan. Conn Campbell directed.

Poison Found In Kidneys Of Mrs. Gertrude Webb

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., October 4. (By the Associated Press)—Poison has been found in the kidneys of Mrs. Gertrude Webb, wealthy New York and Philadelphia society woman, and the Westchester county grand jury, it has been announced, will investigate her death in an effort to discover if she was murdered.

Several witnesses already have been heard by the jury, among them Dr. William J. Meyer, who attended

Mrs. Webb just before her death and first indicated that she died under mysterious circumstances, and Mrs. Margaret P. Johnston, wife of a former New York judge, who declared that her childhood friend had been the victim of slow poisoning.

Dr. A. C. Goettler, toxicologist, who examined Mrs. Webb's vital organs, reported late yesterday that certain quantities of poison were found in the body. The grand jury put the case over until next Monday, when the investigation will be begun in earnest.

Relatives of the dead woman have started a contest over the three wills which disposed of her estate, estimated to be worth between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000. The first will, made before her marriage to Charles Webb on November 4, 1922, left her estate to relatives and to religious institutions.

The second, executed during her last illness, and composed of only ten lines, left her entire estate to her husband.

The third and last will, on which the contest will be based, was made out just before Mrs. Webb's death, and left, in part, due to her weakened condition. This last document, which was refused by the surrogate's office on the ground that an unsigned will could not be accepted even as evidence, left the greater part of the estate to relatives, and also established a trust to care for a monument to the dead woman which was to be erected in New York.

A late development in the case was the statement by Dr. Meyer that when he informed Mr. Webb that his wife's death was imminent, the latter replied: "We have been together for ten years. One day lost does not matter."

"Later Mr. Webb did visit the sick room," the doctor said, "but he manifested no interest, and left it in about ten minutes. He never saw his wife alive again."

Rheumatic Agony

Now Easily Ended

It does not matter to me whether you are disabled with cured rheumatism or have only occasional twinges. I know that Allenby, my own discovery, will stop the agony, do away with the gnawing pains and reduce the swollen joints, says Mr. Allen.

I know it will dissolve the uric acid deposits that have become deeply imbedded in joints and muscles and quickly drive every trace of rheumatism from your body. I know this because I was crippled for years and many times was unable to work, and Allenby made a well, robust, healthy man of me.

I know because since I cured myself hundreds have taken Allenby and speedily rid themselves of this agonizing disease.

No matter how severe your case, I urge you to put your faith in the prescription that it took me years to perfect—a prescription that made a new man of me after doctors tried and failed.

Allenby is no haphazard; it starts right in at once; it gets into the blood, searches out the poisonous uric acid deposit and in two days starts to drive the concentrated impurities that cause rheumatism, one of the blood through the natural channels of the system.

Kentucky Special On At Latonia Saturday

LATONIA, KY., Oct. 4.—The Kentucky special to be run here on Saturday continued to be the absorbing topic among horsemen and the public generally, despite the controversy over the selection of the American horse to meet Papyrus, English derby winner, in the international championship event.

With handicappers arriving daily to compete for the $50,000 prize money, a field of more than twenty starters in the special seemed assured.

A number of those already here were given their final workouts yesterday. Actuary covered the mile and a quarter route in 2:07, and in Memorial went the same distance in a fraction of a second less. Hopeless another westerner, worked a mile in 1:39 which is the best time for that distance shown by any of the candidates. Vigil and others were given slow gallops.

STAGE SET FOR CLASSY BOXING CARD FRIDAY NIGHT

The boxing card at Millbrook pavilion Friday evening promises to be one of the classiest programs ever presented for the delight of the many local boxing fans. There will also be a large delegation down from Huntington and Ashland. Both of these upriver cities are about to resume the boxing game, and those interested are coming to get a start on some of the Portsmouth night artists.

Duke Ridgely, sporting editor of the Huntington Herald-Dispatch, will be on deck to take a peek at Nig Blair, whom he has not seen in action since the Panther took Mike Carney's scalp over a year ago. Since that time Huntington has a new local prospect in Jimmy Farney. Duke thinks that Nig and Jimmy would make a great bout and the boys will probably mix it in Huntington within a few weeks.

Blair will wind up his training tonight by going ten rounds with Dutch White. Nig likes to work out with White, as the latter can give him a good workout and never asks Nig to pull his punches. When Blair steps into the ring tomorrow evening he will be in fine condition, and Mr. Phil Keith of Cincinnati is going to find him a pretty hard nut to crack.

The seats will be on sale at the Smoke House until 7 o'clock Friday evening.

GIANTS HAVE EDGE ON SERIES, EXPERT FIGURES OUT

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor.)
NEW YORK, Oct. 4. (United Press.)—Age-worn and time-proven axioms that doze is never infallible and that nothing is certain in baseball make complicated this fall the process of coming to some accurate forecast on the result of the 1923 world's series.

With the same two teams almost man for man that engaged in the two past series, the dope, but for its known tendency to get off the track at times, would indicate that the New York Yankees would be a safe bet to win another world's championship at the expense of their Bronx rivals.

On the basis of form and past performance, the most approved method of doping, the Yankees have only a small chance to turn the tables and beat the team that won rather easily from them in 1921 and made them look like a team in 1922.

In personnel and the basic mechanics of baseball, the Yanks are no better this year than they were last year. Their biggest asset is the same superiority in pitching that was expected to overcome the Giants last fall and which failed miserably to do it.

In the fact it is the same Yankee team, the same players, the same style of game and the same erratic temperament, but in morals and spirit, it is a vastly different ball club that will try to live up to the good things expected of it in 1921 and 1922.

Although superficial judgment would justify the belief that the Yanks are too old a ball club to stir themselves out of the beaten path that led them to two fine trimmings, many wise baseball fans are picking the American League champions to beat the Giants because of the stability, the harmony and the winning spirit they displayed in running away with their third straight pennant.

The Yanks did show a most impressive change in temperament from the very first day of the season. It was apparent that they considered the business of winning the pennant, a very serious proposition in which the financial end was too important to permit a laxity in training or in playing.

With Babe Ruth setting a most exacting style of living and paying close attention to business, the Yanks subordinated petty personal feelings, broke up factional cliques and worked in harmony for the common cause.

It is the change in morale and the cultivation of a winning spirit that will bring the Yankees to their first world's championship—if they do get there.

Another important factor to consider in figuring the chances of the Yankees is the known fact that from the early part of the season, when it began to appear certain that nothing but bad luck or injuries could keep them out of the world's series, the club has been living, playing and planning only to beat the Giants and vindicate themselves.

The Yankees fell, individually and collectively, the dearest humiliation ever the sorry showing they made in the series last year, when the best they could do was to get a tie in one game. They felt that they were not only a better club than they looked, but that they were a better team than the Giants. They claimed they were caught in a slump that came as a result of the hard fight they had to win the pennant and that the Giants found them in the state of a general let-down.

Granting that the team might have been in a general slump, that the star pitchers were disheartened by the lack of support and that the whole team was stale, the American League champions ought to be in better shape this year because they had more than two weeks to break the strain after the same time in which to prepare themselves for the pennant.

Perhaps the strain, which forced the Giants to go their limit until almost the last minute of the season, will have the same effect that it worked on the Yankees last year, although John McGraw has said in the past that he preferred to keep his club going at top speed instead of allowing them to let down and then getting them back on edge again.

Managers and players of rival clubs in the American League have expressed the opinion that the Yanks are a greatly improved ball club and they pointed out that the easy victory of the New Yorkers in the pennant race was not due to any real decrease in the strength of the contending clubs, but was the result of the great improvement in the champions.

While everything depends upon the mental factor of the Yankee team, it will be of no importance with the Giants. Two impressive victories over the Yanks will give the National League champions a mental edge over their opponents and will of necessity increase the confidence that they might lack with such mediocre pitching.

Having been victorious in two battles behind the same kind of pitching, having had little trouble with the star pitchers of the Yanks and having stopped the great Babe Ruth plenty, the Giants will not need to be put through any mental exercises by McGraw.

The Giants can be depended upon to outsmart the Yanks if it comes to a battle of brains, and it was quick thinking and spontaneous action that turned the tide in two of the games last fall when the Yankees gave evidence of having lost their brains in the club house. McGraw's teams always play smart baseball because they take orders on every play from the bench, and it is not to the discredit of Miller Huggins to give McGraw credit for more baseball brains. He has more baseball knowledge than any manager of all time.

Position by position, the Giants and the Yankees are not badly matched. Tomorrow the outfields of the two clubs will be discussed and compared.

New York-Day-By-Day

BY O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—The flurry of life in Delancey Street reaches its crescendo on Sunday when the shops and stores of the East Side Broadway remain open. It is mostly a Yiddish quarter sprinkled with the colorings of all nations.
The shops offer the same styles of Broadway at cheaper prices, and chorus girls go there to replenish their wardrobes. Sunday on Delancey Street is a constant promenade. In front of almost every store sits an old orthodox woman, clinging to the ancient wig.
Side street synagogues are dotted with shops. Whiskers are plentiful and the men wear black straw hats and speak only the language of Abraham. Peddlers from the side walks with their little push carts—offering all sorts of goodies so dear to the quarter.
Pumpkin seeds parboiled in salt water are to the East Side what poker-poke is to the county fair. The old-fashioned one-horse carriage with canopy top is a favorite for family outings. Ten and twelve ride in it for 50 cents an hour.
Delicatessens, labeled Kosher, flourish. The window displays are alluring—pastrami, corn beef, salami, duck, dill pickles and stuffed goose. The favorite beverage of the East Side is a celery beer. The children prefer huge pretzels to candies and sweets.
The older folk hold fast to Old Testament customs, but the young generation has absorbed the customs of the new—the girls wear their hair bobbed and the boys the styles of Broadway—astonishingly Americanized. In hot weather the street hydrants are turned on so the children may receive a cool drenching in the gutters.
At the Eastern End of Delancey Street is the old Williamsburg Bridge and underneath its approach, each morning rises the bubble of the push cart market, where all Delancey Street housewives go to fill the family larder.
Coming northward on the Bowery from Delancey Street the con-

Banish Pimples By Easy Method

Stuart's Calcium Wafers Have Remarkable Action in the Skin to Clear It of Pimples, Blackheads and Other Such Beauty Spoilers.

With all the wonderfully pretty things to wear many a girl is distracted because her complexion is a fright. But here's the way to banish those pimples. Ask any druggist for a 60 cent box of Stuart's Calcium Wafers and follow directions.

Their first action is to remove the sour fermentations that are apt to poison the blood and thus disfigure the skin. The effect is visibly noticeable to those troubled with a pimply skin, or one that is muddy or red or blochy, sealy and rough and coarse. The Calcium Wafers induce a reaction to healthier tendencies and soon the pinkish complexion begins to assert itself, the blemishes fade away, the pimples seem unmated and the entire appearance is one of vivacious beauty instead of unsightliness.
Get a 60 cent box of Stuart's Calcium Wafers at the nearest drug store or write to F. A. Stuart Co., 635 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich. for a free sample package—Advertisement.

GOOD BUSINESS.

Henry (talking over telephone): "Hello, Hello, dat you Mistah Brown?"
"Did yo' get a boy-to-work for you like you advertised, Mistah Brown?"
"No chance o' me gettin dat job, is dey?"—No?—You say you done got a boy?
"Yestander (after Henry had rung off): "Why did you wait so late to call about that ad, Henry?"
Henry (chuckling to himself): "Tuh, Ise de boy he hired and I jus' wanted to check up on meself."

SCREEN SIFTINGS.

I'm blue for the days that "aster" was—
The time when I had some-one home—
But now I am walking the streets because—
The wife got the notion to roam—I take in the movies and know the star's names
But that's little comfort for me—So I've taken up "nibs" and other kid games
'Cause my wife aint where she ought to be.

BLACKMAIL.

"You say your wife has received an anonymous letter informing her of something you did before your marriage? Well, the best thing you can do is to confess."
"I realize that, but she won't let me read the letter, and I don't know what to confess!"

GOOD PAIS.

The rookie policeman was assigned to the mounted squad for instruction. But it was very much against his desire.
"Listen here, Captain, I never rode a horse in my life," he objected.
"Don't worry about that," said the Captain. "I got a nice little horse here that ain't never been ridden in his life. You two can start together."

SOMETHING LIKE THAT.

They had been having a little quarrel and she turned to him with tears in her eyes.
"Well, John, even though I have been extravagant, I got a bargain today."
"Yes, I'll bet it was a bargain! You have no idea of the value of money. I suppose you got something for nothing."
"We'll, I got a birthday present for you."—The Continent.

Sallie Ann SAYS

I inspected some new arrivals in fine coats at The Fashion this morning. They are beauties, I'm going to describe a few for you.

One is a beautiful wrap of black rayonah with handsome collar and cuffs of kolinsky. It is made in an odd double breasted effect buttoning almost at the shoulder. When open it gives the effect of a wide rever. It also fastens at one hip while on the other hip is a distinctive pear shaped pocket trimmed with bands of fur. Three bands of the material edge the side of the coat from hem to neckline, then turn at right angles and form a hip band.

Another is a navy velvetyne with handsome collar of genuine knit fox. It has stunning puffed sleeves with gauntlet cuffs. Across the front is a diagonal hip band from which the skirt flares gracefully. The coat fastens at the hip with a handsome ornament.

Another is for the woman who doesn't want a fur trimmed coat. It is of rich glossy rayonah in kit fox grey shade. It is of tube silhouette without belt and fastens at the hip. The collar and cuffs are knife pleated, between narrow bands of the material.

These are but a few of the many distinctive rich wraps that The Fashion is showing. I heard several women remark that it is the finest assemblage of high class coats they have seen.

More Friday.
